American Psychological Association Publications:

Help for the student who wants to go to graduate school but may not know how to go about getting in. Includes a series of checklists so you know what to do and when to do it. Found in the reference section of the LaGrange College Library or can be purchased from APA.

A catalog of information provided by graduate programs all over the country. Includes program descriptions, admission requirements, and names and addresses to write for more information. Found in the reference section of the LaGrange College Library or the most recent edition can be purchased from APA.

An overview of psychological careers at various levels of academic preparation. One copy is available free from APA. Additional copies are $1.00.

Points out that planning for graduate school should begin when the psychology major is declared. Raises important questions that you should consider as you decide whether or not graduate school is for you. Found in the reference section of the LaGrange College Library.

Articles on a variety of psychological specialties help you understand life as a psychologist. Also contains good practical advice on getting through graduate school.

Articles describing an assortment of psychological specialties, most at the Doctoral level. Both academic and applied careers are covered.

A guide to the licensing procedure for those intending to work in clinical, counseling, or I/O psychology. Can be checked out from the LaGrange College Library.

Covers a variety of topics from career choices to the application process to what it takes to be a successful graduate student. Can be checked out from the LaGrange College Library.

A collection of articles on various topics of interest to psychology majors. Contains information on resume writing and interviewing techniques. Can be checked out from the LaGrange College Library.