Transformations begin at LaGrange College. Here, you'll find the perfect balance between learning and life – in a supportive and interactive environment. You’ll discover the best in yourself by experiencing unique opportunities to serve, lead and create enduring friendships.

Begin where you are, and learn to expect more of yourself than you ever imagined.

LEARN. LEAD. TRANSFORM.
Transformation is at the heart of a liberal arts education. Studies show, and employers agree, that a liberal arts degree enhances analytical aptitude and adaptability. You’ll find that to be true at LaGrange College, where you’ll gain a broader, deeper knowledge of many subject areas, along with practical skills – providing flexibility in your career choices.

As a smaller, liberal arts school, LaGrange College offers a beautiful, intimate setting and easy-going on-campus living. You’ll be part of a close-knit, supportive community as you begin your journey toward self-discovery.

Put your theories to the test
If science is your passion, you’ll find a whole new world of opportunity here. From chemistry to computational math, LaGrange College offers a variety of science-related studies focused on reasoning and knowledge developed through discovery. You’ll undertake research projects, allowing you to learn from hands-on experiments and experience growth as a scientist.
Here, you’re encouraged to explore your possibilities and focus on your individual passions. In a recent National Survey of Student Engagement, LaGrange ranked high for active and collaborative learning. Not surprising, given that our students live in a hands-on environment, with faculty making every effort to involve them in their scholarly work and research projects.

At LaGrange, you’ll learn from the best: more than 80 percent of our full-time faculty hold the highest degrees in their fields. Whether your interests lie in the arts, science, business— or anything in between— there’s a path of study waiting for you here. And our accomplished, engaging faculty will guide you along the way.

The business of success
Our Business Management program prepares you for today’s global economy, providing the necessary tools for critical thinking and communication. From your first day in class, you’ll conduct independent research, work in teams, debate, participate in panel discussions and make individual and group presentations.

Think for yourself
A liberal arts education teaches you how to think and learn. At LaGrange College, we’re interested in helping you develop a strong mind and sound judgment— attributes that will carry you through whatever career path you choose. As a LaGrange graduate, you’ll bring the asset of critical thinking to the job.

Cornerstone for life
To help you start off on the right foot, your education here begins with Freshman Cornerstone. Part of our core curriculum, this course focuses on ethics and decision-making. You’ll choose from topics like The Art of Happiness, Wild Wild West, Ethics in Film & Television, and even Food Fight (the exploration of food’s significance).

collaborate
Learn through relationships.

challenge
At our core.

As a Methodist institution, LaGrange College provides an education that challenges and inspires you to grow intellectually, socially and spiritually. Integrated with other courses during your first three years, our core curriculum develops your creative, critical-thinking and communicative abilities. Here, we care not just about what you know, but also who you become.
Thoughts rule the world.

If you’re looking for a rewarding career that combines high-tech with high-touch, the LaGrange Nursing program may be for you. You’ll gain a foundation of knowledge paired with a focus on compassion – both needed for a career in nursing or the pursuit of advanced degrees and certificates. In such high demand today, nurses – especially those with a Bachelor of Science in Nursing – are almost guaranteed jobs right out of college.
We call it Jan Term; you’ll call it the amazing adventure of a lifetime. The only program of its kind in Georgia, our Interim Term during the month of January offers courses designed to encourage you to explore content outside of your major – and even outside the country. You might choose to study the Art and Beauty of Barcelona or The Ireland of Yeats and Joyce. Whatever your interest, we’ll take you there, with a wide variety of courses to choose from and $2,500 travel vouchers for incoming freshmen to use in their junior or senior year. If you prefer to stay close to home, you can explore on-campus courses like The Poetics of Punk or The Science of Photography. Wherever Jan Term takes you, prepare to be amazed and enlightened.

Internships: From the Hill in LaGrange to Capitol Hill
Spend a month getting real-life experience by participating in one of many internships available to LaGrange students. You might work in Washington, D.C., in an area related to your academic major or career interest. Or you can participate in an exercise science internship in a school or sports-management setting. Experience your area of study in the real world.

Our Daily Bread
Jan Term can make a difference in your life by making a difference in the lives of others. The Our Daily Bread class provides an up-close and personal look at the issue of hunger in America. Students examine the facts, then serve the hungry by working with soup kitchens, food banks and farms.
An arts education at LaGrange College will take you as far as your imagination will go. Whether it’s music, theater or art and design, you’ll immerse yourself in established techniques, while exploring your own creative expressions. Our facilities showcase your artistic talents in the best light. The Lamar Dodd Art Center offers excellent studio, gallery and museum space. Home to the LaGrange Symphony, our Callaway Auditorium serves as an acoustically outstanding concert hall. For exceptional drama, our Price Theater features a 280-seat proscenium theater, 60-seat Black Box Theater, hydraulic orchestra pit, scenery workshop, dressing rooms and costume shops.
Listen to your voice within and develop your musical abilities at LaGrange. Our Music program allows you to take center stage, whether it’s in a recital hall, a recording studio or premier venues like St. Patrick’s Cathedral in New York or Notre Dame in Paris. LaGrange’s Composition & Music Technologies degree trains you to use the latest tools and realize your full creative potential.

INTERACTIVE WAYS TO DEVELOP your interests and reach your goals connect
Make new friends; try new things.

LaGrange College is a close-knit community that encourages civility, diversity, service and excellence—in and out of the classroom. Living on campus and being part of a smaller school makes it easy to meet friends, get involved and become a leader in your choice of sororities, fraternities, clubs and organizations. With more than 50 student groups and plenty of service opportunities, there’s always something new to do at LaGrange. Or just hang out around campus, experiencing Favorite Foreign Flicks, Greek Week, Bongo Ball Mania, Saturday nights at the Acoustic Café, lip-sync contests, Sunday Night Soul... and more.

Safe haven
While our community has always been a safe and secure place to call home, we’ve taken extensive measures to enhance student safety—with the addition of an outdoor warning system, 24/7 security officers, major outdoor lighting upgrades, card access for after-hours entrance to buildings and a backup generator. In case of an emergency situation, our e2Campus alert system will broadcast notifications to you by email and text message.
Try us on for size. With a student/professor ratio of 11-to-1 and intentionally small class sizes, you’ll receive the personal attention you need to excel at LaGrange College. Our professors not only know you by name, but also know who you are. They’ll help you uncover your true talents and passions.

Experience a caring community.

The relationships you create are an essential part of your personal and professional journey. SOURCE (Student Opportunity, Undergraduate Resources and Community Engagement) partners students with alumni and community mentors to build networks for your future success.

Restaurant culture differences
Meet people and engage in cultural exchange as part of the LaGrange College International Group. Powered by diversity, this group fosters an understanding and appreciation of international issues and cultural differences. From soccer games and parties to a Japanese Tea Ceremony and Africa Chat, the International Group is your global connection in LaGrange.

Rock out at LaGrange
Show your true colors on The Rocks, located on our Residential Quad. Join with friends to paint the boulders here to represent your fraternity or sorority, celebrate special events or simply express your creativity.
A fierce Panther spirit inhabits the DNA of LaGrange College students, whether they’re watching or participating. A member of the NCAA Division III and the USA South Athletic Conference, LaGrange offers 16 intercollegiate teams, from football to lacrosse. Our athletic facilities, including an outstanding baseball stadium, natatorium, two-field softball complex and 4,000-square-foot weight training room, are among the best in the region. Year after year, student-athletes at LaGrange College earn conference and national recognition in their chosen sports. With more than one-third of on-campus students participating in our athletics program, a spot on a Panther team may be waiting for you.

Get in the game
Not an intercollegiate athlete? You can still take on a sporting challenge with one of our 18 intramural activities. Here, you’ll find expected sports like flag football and softball, along with the more unusual water polo and Frisbee golf teams.

compete
Excel in your sport of choice.

Touchdown Panthers!
Few schools our size can boast an all-star NCAA Division III football team. In just its third season, the squad won its conference championship and a spot in the national playoffs. At LaGrange, football’s in our blood, with crowds of fans and cheerleaders rooting on the Panthers against a formidable lineup of opponents.
Sometimes the best way to lead is to serve. You’ll discover that right from the start as a freshman at LaGrange College, where you’ll participate in a First Week Service Project to help those in need in our community. Through our Servant-Leadership initiatives, you’ll experience an inward journey that leads to an outreach of your time and talents.

Contribute to the greater good.

Servant scholars
A program unique to LaGrange College, the new Servant Scholar Residential Honors Program is exclusively for our juniors and seniors who have demonstrated high academic achievement, engagement and leadership on campus. Living and serving locally, these students partner in building a stronger and healthier community.
Major faith
To further explore your faith, LaGrange offers two Religion and Philosophy majors. Whether as preparation for church leadership or graduate school or simply as a minor, this area of study expands your mental and spiritual understanding.

Believe
Find meaning in all you do.

At LaGrange College, we’ll do more than just challenge your mind— we’ll also inspire your soul. As you explore new ideas and interests, you’ll discover opportunities for spiritual growth and faith relationships, through groups like Wesley Fellowship and Baptist Collegiate Ministries. Backed by our history of service and affiliation with the United Methodist Church, LaGrange College is committed to aiding you in your own inspirational journey— wherever it may lead you.

A pledge of honor
Each fall, incoming freshmen add their signatures to the LaGrange College Honor Code, pledging their commitment to the ideals of civility, diversity, service and excellence. And each spring, eight students are selected to serve on the Honor Council, helping to build character and reinforce those values among their peers.
In your honor

From Alpha Psi Omega to Theta Alpha Kappa, LaGrange College offers a wide choice of national and international honor societies to help you further excel in your field of interest.
As an ethical and caring community, LaGrange students are involved in protecting the health and stability of creatures, social systems and ecological environments. Through academic programs and projects like bicycle initiatives and community gardens, our Sustainability Council is dedicated to leaving the world a better place than we found it.

RESPECT YOUR WORLD

Do all the good you can, by all the means you can ...
